Testimonial on behalf of Peter Skinner and Dave Taylor or rp²

We were faced with organising a Test-the-well-on-paper (TWOP) for a particularly high-profile well-test activity for an onshore HPHT well here in Romania. Whilst we normally conduct these events ourselves, our JV partner (Repsol) encouraged us to use a company, Relentless Pursuit of Perfection, who they have used on many occasions in the past around the world.

They assigned a their Completions & Interventions technical-facilitator, Pete Skinner, to the task. He was supported by their Managing Director, Dave Taylor, who joined us straight from work in Kurdistan.

At very short notice (less than a week) they pulled together a highly-engaging workshop which was attended by twenty-nine (29) full-time delegates plus, at critical stages, by our D&C Manager.

They broke the mold of how TWOPs are conducted, and their highly interactive, informal but focused deliver style brought out the best in our delegates and has set us up for a safe and efficient activity set.

Several of the delegates are on record as saying that these kind of sessions should be done even for smaller projects.

We would not hesitate to recommend this company, and both these facilitators, to any group contemplating something similar.
